AND MANDRELS FOR CIRCULAR SAWS;

FROM IDAHO.

The World (Idaho City) of Aug. 25th, has the following:

ELECTION RETURNS.

In Boise County, the greatest number of votes cast at the late election was for Sheriff. The total vote cast was 3,280. For Congress, 3,285. The total vote for Congressman in this county, two years ago, footed up 6,232—a falling off of nearly one-half.

Idaho county is reported to give a Holbrook majority of 49. Nez Perce not heard from, with the exception of the town of Lewiston, which went for Holbrook by one majority.

The Statesman says Oneida county has gone for Kirkpatrick, but it gives no figures. M. A. Carter is reported to be elected from that county as a member of the Council. If so, the Republican party will have two representatives in that branch of the Legislature from South Idaho, and possibly one from the North.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Supreme Court of this Territory rendered an important decision recently in the case of the People vs. John Williams, indicted for highway robbery, charged to have been committed in Boise county, September, 1863. The Court holds that at that time no criminal code existed in this Territory, and as no statute existed punishing the offender, no sentence can be pronounced.

PRISONERS RELEASED.

Under the decision of the Supreme Court, published elsewhere, a writ of habeas corpus was issued this week in favor of Elijah Willey, who was under sentence in the Territorial prison for ten years, on a conviction of murder in the second degree, committed for killing Sutton, at Centerville, in August, 1863. He was set at liberty. On Friday George Owens was released under an order from the Supreme Court. He was serving his time in the Territorial Prison, under sentence of 20 years for [illegible] killing Jacob Williams in 1863. They were released on the ground that no statute existed in this Territory against the crimes committed in 1863.

EAST HILL TUNNEL COMPANIES.

The discoveries recently made at Placerville of beds of gravel under the rock previously believed to have been the "bed rock," have stimulated parties here to prospect for similar paying beds underneath the rock which has been worked down to heretofore. Two companies have been formed to run tunnels into East Hill. One of them proposes to run a tunnel from the Bear Run side of the hill; the other from Moore's creek. The East Hill Tunnel Co. has been regularly organized, and stock issued. Dr. Bryant is President, J. W. Wood, Treasurer, and A. P. Turner, Secretary. A large amount of this stock has been taken by citizens interested in the stability of Idaho City, and the work will soon commence. It is believed that the old channel of Moore's creek will be struck. Many circumstances lead to the belief that the original channel of the stream once flowed along the North side of the present bed of the creek. If such was the case, and this work is vigorously prosecuted, it may lead to discoveries of lasting importance to Idaho City.

GOING TO THE STATES.

A company of about fifty men, from different portions of the Basin, are preparing to leave for "the States" next week. They go via Salt Lake.

MINING CLAIM SOLD.

The French Company on Moore's Creek have sold out their interest in the [illegible] claim for $6,000.

HOT WEATHER.

The thermometer has ranged higher this week than at any other time this [illegible]. In one place, last Saturday, it indicated 108 deg. in the shade.

The following is from the Ruby City Avalanche of August 25th:

INDIAN MURDERS AND RAIDS.

James Grete was shot by Indians on the 17th instant, between Wagontown and Baxter's Ranch. On the evening of the 16th he was about to camp on Trout Creek, but seeing two Indians, returned to Baxter's. Next day, while driving his team towards Ruby, he was fired upon and killed. Three balls were found in different parts of his body. The body was not mutilated, but two Indians were seen in that vicinity on the same day and they were evidently the [illegible]. They took a portion of the team and left two head of stock that had been stolen several days previous. Mr. Grete was of American birth, about thirty years of age, and a very industrious citizen. Was but recently from California, and in the employ of Philip Kohlheyer & Co., of Ruby City. Won't some rainwater philanthropist indite a [illegible] poem on the gentle savage and point out the nobleness of this act in particular? Think it would sell well in the Bureau.

A letter from Flint District, Aug. 21st says: Last night about eight o'clock a man named Butler came running into camp wild with excitement, and reported that he had seen three Indians on the lower Leviathan Gulch, about two hundred yards from town, and that another man in his company had shot at them. Every one rushed for his arms. Scouts were sent out, but no trace of Indians discovered; but in the morning plain Indian tracks left the matter without a doubt that "Lo" had paid us a visit. But whether the party was the advance guard of a large body strong [illegible] to do mischief, or simply horse-thieves, is not settled.

I [illegible] this evening a petition in circulation to the General Government, asking for better protection from Indians, which is a move in the right direction.

HOTEL PROJECT.

The project of organizing a joint-stock-company with $25,000 or $30,000 capital to erect a large and creditable hotel in Silver, is earnestly [illegible]. It is proposed to put the shares at $100 each, and that the amount shall be paid in ten per cent. installments.

MINING NEWS.

The letter referred to above, says: "Col. Fogus has just [illegible] ready for milling about two hundred tons of splendid Rising Star rock, and is about driving up the northern shaft preparatory to sinking on the vein. The owners of the [illegible] Discovery (I must [illegible] it so in spite of objection) have commenced sinking on their ledge, and are taking out some splendid rock. The Black [illegible] their mill in a few days. They have bought a mill site of Walsh, Stewart & Co., near the mouth of the gulch at Owyhee City, and are building a private residence on a very romantic spot near Oro."

Probably the richest mining claim in Idaho is situated at the head of Rich Gulch, and is owned by Albert Young, J. Colehower and others. It consists of twelve hundred feet in length by from forty to fifty feet in width, and is from twenty-two to thirty feet in depth a washed gravel to the bed-rock. In many places as high as $2 50 to the pan can be obtained; and a cent and upwards in even the [illegible] of it.

It is reported that new diggings have been discovered about twenty miles southeast of this place—Ruby City—somewhere in the neighborhood of Boulder Creek.

Owyhee is now turning out about seventy [illegible] dollar bricks each week. For good and [illegible] the exact yield is not furnished for publication. It is comforting to know that it is exceedingly creditable to Owyhee.

Robert Trimble and others are prospecting the Mayflower ledge, and have found rock that yields, by assay of McDonald & Co.: Silver, per ton, $2,116 65; gold, per ton, $797 34—total, per ton, $2,913 99. The main shaft is down only about fifteen feet. There are four small [illegible] of quartz between the [illegible], which are five feet apart.

FROM SOUTH MOUNTAIN [illegible].

A party of six men have just returned from a week's stay in South Mountain—twenty miles from Flint District. J. J. Forest, one of the party, writing from Flint to [illegible] Lynam, Esq., says: "We found no [illegible] and [illegible] satisfied there is no large body in there as at first reported. There is probably a small thieving band roaming through there, and have their headquarters on the other side. We built two cabins on two good lodes of silver. [illegible] King and I traveled as much as fifteen miles some days on foot. We were on the waters that empty in the Forks of the Owyhee. We captured a horse that had evidently got away from the Indians." Mr. Stewart, another of the party, reports to us that the timber of South Mountain is of the fir species [illegible] and larger bodies than in this vicinity. Water is pure and [illegible] plenty.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The Vancouver Register of the 1st has the following:

ORGANIZATION OF A FIRE COMPANY.

The citizens of Vancouver met at Metropolis Hall on Saturday evening last, the 25th of August, for the purpose of organizing a fire company. H. G. Struve was elected Chairman, and H. C. Morse, Secretary. A Company consisting of 30 members, under the name of Vancouver Fire Engine Company, No. 1, was formed. H. G. Struve, Esq., was elected President of the Company, H. Cochran Foreman, and Wm. Turnbull and H. C. Morse, First and Second Assistants; Mr. C. B. Montague was elected Secretary, M. Wintler, Treasurer, and John Eddings, G. W. Durgan, and Wm. R. Turnbull, Auditing Committee. The members of the Company separately subscribed $25 to aid in purchasing a fire engine, and the Foreman, Assistants and Treasurer of the Company were requested to circulate a subscription among the citizens for the purpose of procuring additional funds.

The call of the subscription committee has thus far been nobly responded to. The subscription now reaches nearly $1,000, and the subscriptions of many who will co-operate in this [illegible] movement are not yet on the list.

DEGREE LODGE OF GOOD TEMPLARS.

A Degree Lodge of Good Templars was instituted in this city on Wednesday, and its officers duly installed by H. K. Hines, D. D. G. W. C. T., as follows: C. T. Stiles, W. D. T.; S. Morse, W. D. V. T.; J. Cochrell, W. D. S.; G. J. Fitzgerald, W. D. F. S.; S. Wood, W. D. T.; Thomas Johnson, W. D. M.; Mary Tempest, W. D. I. G.; C. C. Powers, W. D. S.; Maggie R. Sours, W. D. H. REPRESENTATION IN PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.

Steps have been taken to have our Territory represented in the Philadelphia Convention on Monday next.

NAPOLEON.—A foreign correspondent writes: "The unlooked for and, so to speak, brutal energy of the Prussians in the commencement of the campaign, united to their superior firearms, have done the work. The Emperor Napoleon is furious with his officers for having refused as useless the French-loading guns. If it had been France, instead of Austria, which was in the war with Prussia, France, like Austria, would have been beaten. The very thought makes the hair stand on His Majesty's head, and well it may. The order has already been given to furnish the French army with these guns, with the greatest possible rapidity. It may now even be too late, for French workmen do their work so well, and they carry new ideas into execution so slowly, that the question of the Rhine may yet be decided against France, and all on account of these guns."

FROM EASTERN OREGON.

INDIAN DEPREDATIONS—GREAT EXCITEMENT PREVAILING.

Our Dalles correspondent, August 31st, says:

The news by to-night's stage is of an interesting character. The Indians are again on the road. One night last week a party of Indians visited Col. Baker, at Camp Watson, and made a draw on his department for fifty-four head of mules and eighteen head of beef cattle. Col. Baker immediately dispatched a detachment of men with thirty days' rations, hoping that they might be successful in recovering the stolen property in that time, and severely chastise Mr. "Lo." The stage stock at Rock Creek, four and a half miles east of Camp Watson, are gone, and fears are entertained that the Indians have them. There are several teamsters on the road that have lost, recently, parts of teams. Indian signs are becoming more and more plentiful all along the route from the Mountain House to Canyon City.

There is news from Dixie Creek that the Indians are very bad in that locality. A small party lately went out on a small creek to prospect it and the Indians opened fire on them killing one of their number and driving the rest into camp. There is quite an excitement prevailing in the mining camps on the Indian question. Parties are discussing the matter of starting out after the marauders on their own responsibility, feeling that longer "forbearance ceases to be a virtue."

THE SITUATION AT MORMON BASIN.

Mr. L. W. Gitchell writes from Mormon Basin: The Indians are assuming a more belligerent attitude than formerly. They are getting more bold, and we are beginning to think it necessary to "pray to God and keep our powder dry." It does seem strange that something cannot be done to check the Indians.

PARTICULARS OF THE [illegible] OF SAMUEL LEONARD.

We have received the following particulars of the murder of Samuel Leonard by Indians, mention of which, we made last week:

Sunday the 12th inst., about 1 o'clock P. M., Mr. Samuel Leonard, a miner on Canyon creek—the outlet of Mormon Basin—was [illegible] murdered by the Indians, about 150 yards above the confluence of Canyon and Willow creeks. His body was pierced with four arrows, [illegible] ing him twice on the back of the head and once over the left eye. The depth of penetration of one of the arrows proves conclusively that the savage must have been in close proximity to him when it was sent on its mission of death. It struck him just below the right shoulder blade, ranging upward, and was found [illegible] against the skin near the nipple of the left [illegible]. Either of the four arrows, penetrating the chest, would have caused death in a few minutes. It appears that Mr. Leonard and his companion, Mr. W. H. Rankin, had gone to Willow creek, distant from their cabin two and a half miles, to fish for trout. They took no [illegible] with them. Mr. Leonard being lame, rode his horse to within two hundred and fifty yards of Willow creek, picketing him on Canyon creek. When the Indians were first discovered [illegible] his companion was two hundred yards up the creek. Rankin hearing [illegible] down the hillside, cast his eyes in that direction and saw Leonard running up the hill in the direction of his horse. He hailed him and asked "Are you going home?" to which Leonard made no reply, but seemed, if possible, to increase his speed. On [illegible] the divide Leonard called out to Rankin: "Look out for [illegible]," and dashed down the hill out of sight. At this instant three Indians, on horse-back, came in sight, pursuing Leonard. Rankin soon discovered two red devils on foot [illegible] toward him. He ran for life down the creek. Reaching a point where he could avail himself of the shelter that willows and shrubbery would afford, he plunged into the creek where he laid [illegible] to his chin for eleven hours. The Indians, decorated with the war paint, lounged about on the hill sides waiting for another victim until 12 midnight. Rankin left the creek just before daylight and reached the basin at an early hour. Eight men were soon in their saddles, and hastened to the spot, to find Mr. Leonard a corpse. At 5 P. M. we paid the last tribute of respect to the dead, consigning his body to the grave; and, to the credit of this camp, be it said, that every person in this mining district attended the burial, with four exceptions, and they were ignorant of the death of our friend. Mr. Leonard was an industrious and exemplary man, and kind neighbor. Peace to his ashes.

LATEST—[illegible] ATTACK ON FOUR MEN—ONE MAN KILLED.

The following is from a letter written at Canyon City, August 28th, received by us Saturday evening:

The Indians have again made a fatal raid upon our devoted valley, killing one man and seriously wounding another. The [illegible] connected with the affair are as follows: For the last week the Indians have been making nocturnal visits on Dixie Creek, Strawberry Valley and Upper John Day, all [illegible], stealing stock and otherwise annoying settlers, but on account of the vigilance of the [illegible] and their [illegible], nothing serious occurred until yesterday morning. A few days since Mat. Wilson, Dave Graham, Dave Campbell and one other man [illegible] "struck" camp near the mouth of Dixie Creek, for the purpose of draining the stream. They had nothing but a tent to lodge in, but [illegible] and miners [illegible] from Indian [illegible]. The four men had but one gun and one "Colt's," with only one extra [illegible] of ammunition for each. The tent was pitched in the corner of a [illegible] fence. Just at the dawn of day yesterday morning, eight Indians, five on foot and three on [illegible], [illegible] camp. The men were lying asleep [illegible], and knew nothing of the Indians' [illegible] until they heard the [illegible] of the guns, and the groans of their wounded [illegible]. Mat. Wilson was mortally wounded the first fire. Dave Graham received a rifle ball in the breast at the same time, but it not coming in contact with any vital part, it is supposed he may recover. Dr. Hazeltt, of Canyon City, was [illegible], but before he arrived, Wilson had expired. [illegible] the wound of Graham, [illegible] he left in a fair way to [illegible]. It [illegible] that two Indians, more daring than the rest, had stealthily crept to the fence by the side of the white men, and taking rest upon a rail, with the muzzles of their guns within a few feet of their [illegible] fired, with [illegible]. The two [illegible] wounded men sprang to their arms. [illegible] certain. An Indian who [illegible] boldly, out on open ground about twenty-five yards from the tent, loading his gun. Campbell raised his [illegible] to his eye, and with a [illegible] of "Here's life or death," took deliberate aim at that swarthy form, and the Indian gave a sudden [illegible] and [illegible] the gun which he held by the barrel, was soon out of sight.

"Don't let them scalp me," cried Wilson! "Not until they scalp us all," said Campbell; and there the brave veteran stood over his dying comrades, with but one charge left to face the hungry foe.

As [illegible] the Indians withdraw and make for the hills. The Indians did not [illegible] until sunrise.

The news of this [illegible] has created great excitement throughout the valley, being looked upon as a [illegible] of actual hostility to the white race. We [illegible] ately dispatched a man to Camp Watson for [illegible], but learn that Col. Baker is in pursuit of the Indians some [illegible] and has [illegible] to spare.

A PARTY OF [illegible] UPON THE[illegible]—THEY TAKE TO FLIGHT.

Last night about 10 o'clock, as a company of seven citizens were [illegible] for the [illegible] war party which committed the murder yesterday, they were agreeably surprised by seeing the Indians driving a band of cattle down the bluff toward the river, [illegible]. The party of citizens were on the bottom, [illegible] in high grass. Not knowing certainly whether they were Indians or white men, when within seventy-five yards, the Captain called: "Indians or white men?" No answer. "Mount and charge upon them," said the Captain. In a moment the boys were gallantly [illegible] upon the red-skins, and the [illegible] their band of cattle but saving their scalps.

It is thought that [illegible] Indians [illegible] in the charge, but in the darkness they made their escape. In justice to this heroic little band of citizens, we give the names of those we have [illegible], which are as follows: Jim Dellinger, McQuinn (Captain), Lucky Bill, — Lisle, Nat Fink, Joe Gillesly, and others. Several incidents connected with the fight are interesting, but space will not permit them at present.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT 3 1866.

A Copperhead Convention "Without Distinction of Party"

Now and then an incident occurs in the world of politics, which merits attention from its utter ludicrousness, if for no other reason. Of this nature is a little transaction which took place at the Dalles the other day pretentiously called the

WASCO COUNTY CONVENTION

A Convention of the citizens of Wasco county, without distinction of party, was held at the Court House in Dalles City, on Wednesday evening, for the purpose of endorsing the address of the National Union Convention which assembled at Philadelphia on August 14th.

At 8 o clock the Convention was called to order by Hon O Humason Hon James K Kelly was chosen President, and James Halloran was elected Secretary

On motion of O Humason Mr E E Haft was requested to read the address of the National Convention

After the reading of the address, Hon N H. Gates offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted

Resolved, That this Convention does ratify and endorse the resolutions and address of the National Union Convention, held at Philadelphia, August 14th, 1866, and we pledge ourselves to the support of the principles contained therein.

Pending the motion to adopt, several able speeches were made by members of the Convention, in which were reviewed the principles of our Government, and the high and patriotic sense of duty which called the leading men of the nation to assemble and issue the most able exposition of the principles of our Government ever given to the country.

On motion, the proceedings of this Convention were ordered published in the Mountaineer, and the OREGONIAN and Herald requested to copy.

On motion, the Convention adjourned sine die.

JAMES K. KELLY, President.

JAS HALLORAN, Sec'y.

The OREGONIAN readily, not to say cheerfully, complies with this request "to copy." It hopes it is not so recreant to its obligations to the public as to withhold any information on Oregon politics which it ought in duty to give. Especially does it hope that it is not so insensible to the propriety and excellence of the teachings of political philosophers of the genuine Nasby school, as refuse to give the proceedings of their first meeting in Oregon a suitable hearing.

Without "distinction of party" This introductory observation in the proceedings of the Wasco county "Convention" was wholly unnecessary. No one who has the least smattering of a knowledge of Oregon politics needs to be assured that there was no "distinction of party" in that "Convention" Examine the names First, "Hon. O. Humason," Copperhead Next, "Hon. James K. Kelly," ditto Next, "Mr. E. E. Haft," ditto. Next, "Hon. N. H Gates." ditto. And, finally, "James Halloran," once a weak sort of Unionist, never positive, never reliable, and now a babe and suckling in the "new party," greedily holding on to the little share of the public pap which was given him awhile ago on consideration of his setting up his piping cry against the "Radicals" and piping in a similar key for Nesmith. These be the Wasco county "Conventionists." "Without distinction of party!" After this showing, who doubts it? A "Convention" that is Copperhead through and through, re-inforced only by a single "bread and butter" patriot who has sold out and got his price, may aver without the least danger of contradiction that during its sessions no such thing as "distinction of party" was thought of.

The lesson afforded by the "Wasco County Convention" is truly invaluable. If you would hold meetings for the ratification of the Copper-Johnson Convention, see that it is done "without distinction of party,"—that is to say, see that none but notorious Copperheads (with an occasional "bread-and-butter" eater) appear to bear a part in the proceedings. Banish all others. They might "speak out" and render the meeting inharmonious. Imitate the Philadelphia Johnson Convention. Muzzle everybody. If you can have a few of Price's rebels present, so much the better. They will help to carry out the idea of a Convention "without distinction of party."

We beg to offer our congratulations to the "Wasco County Convention." We go further. We tender it our hearty thanks. The service it has done the Union party of Oregon is not to be lightly estimated. It has shown us who the supporters of "my policy" are, and who the "distinguished Union men" are who have fallen into the line of the "new party." So far as reported they are "Jas. Halloran," and—and "Jas. Halloran, Secretary." For the balance of its support, the "new party" is obliged to rely on such "National Union men" as Kelly, Humason, Gates, O'Meara and Jo. Lane. The Dalles meeting shows the relative proportion of Democrats and renegade Unionists that constitute the "new party." The whole town of Dalles could turn out but a single person to endorse the Philadelphia address, who had ever been a member of the Union party, and he is a person whose services were rewarded by Nesmith with the value of a pint of peanuts. Who doesn't feel like congratulating the "Conservatives" on the imposing array of the names of "Union" men that appear in the proceedings of the "Wasco County Convention," called strictly "without distinction of party."

It is very evident that the "Union men" of Wasco county who are petitioning Senator Donnell to vote for Nesmith, are the very folk who "without distinction of party," solemnly endorsed "my policy" at the Dalles last Wednesday. We guess no true Union man would find the least difficulty in resisting such an appeal from such a quarter.

Wasco county has seen the first, when shall we see the next Copperhead Convention "without distinction of party."

DARIEN SHIP CANAL.—Congress has again authorized a survey of the Isthmus of Darien, with a view to the construction of a ship canal connecting the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. An appropriation of $40,000 was made for this purpose, to be expended under the direction of the War Department. It is proposed to survey a route a little south of the Isthmus of Panama.

The foreign dispatches say that in consequence of the action of the Philadelphia Convention, the hitherto worthless stocks of lately rebel States, have advanced. Just as might have been expected. Rebel stock has advanced in the United States. It will not be surprising if President Johnson should yet recommend the payment of the rebel debts entire.

Johnson says the Philadelphia Convention has raised a "ground swell" which will reach traitors in the North. It has raised no "ground swell" that will reach traitors in the South except to reach them a helping hand.

PACIFIC COAST APPROPRIATIONS.—It is quite impossible to get at the Appropriation bill which passed during the last hours of Congress, to ascertain exactly what the items for the Pacific coast were The California items in the Naval Appropriation bill which passed some time ago, may not have reached you, if so, here they are:

For the foundry and boiler establishment at Mare Island, $85,000, for cisterns and buildings, $7,500; for quay wall, $50,000, for grading, $20,000, for cistern and holder for gas works, $2,500; for repairs of all kinds, $50 000, for repairs of building appendages, painting, glazing, furniture and miscellaneous items, $7,500.

Surveyor General Upson, who is still here, is entirely satisfied with the amount of appropriations provided for service of his office, so we may assume that California is all O K on the land question.—Bulletin's Washington Letter.

A PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION MEETING.—In Frederick county (Va), at a meeting to choose delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, Uriel Wright objected to the call because it abandoned the right to secede The South, he said still held that right, and if, at the next Presidential election, Southern votes should be excluded, the rebels would have the "President at their head and a strong party in the North to support them, and the tables would be turned." He "saw war in the distance, and advised everybody to prepare for it" A mere echo of the teachings that have emanated from the White House.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 1.

RECEPTION OF SOUTHERN UNION DELEGATES

PHILADELPHIA, Sep 1st —The Union League gave a grand reception to Thomas J Durant, of New Orleans, and other prominent Southern Delegates in the city Mr Durant in the course of his remarks said "The unfortunates whose circumstances permit them, are now flying from their homes in the South to seek a refuge and the hospitalities and freedom of voting and of discussion here in the North How long is this to continue? How long before the loyal people of the Union will give the loyal men in the South a government where union is free, where every man shall have the right to express his sentiments in the ballot as well as in words; when he shall have the right of communicating in every respectful way what he thinks what he has to say? Do you not know that the liberty of speech and the liberty of the press indeed, are denied in New Orleans and that American citizens are slaughtered in the streets of New Orleans under the American flag without prohibition?"

Ex-Governor Hamilton spoke and in the course of his address said Prepare your hearts and arms too, for another conflict (Cries of we are ready) You know the wicked element of this prediction this feeling, and it is with regret that I make this prediction after the sad events of the last four years But are we to ignore our friends North and South? Whatever have been my prejudices in the past, I am not willing to ignore the black man any longer

Gov Brownlow said he came to listen to Mr Durant He had often heard of the professions of New Orleans. He had concluded a journey of a thousand miles in forty-eight hours and came at the head of fifty loyalists of Tennessee. They came to the Convention of what was termed by the Executive "mean whites," and poor sneaks, but it was a Convention where it would not be necessary to cause to be excluded any of the delegates to produce harmony, nor would it be necessary to muzzle any of the delegates Who placed President Johnson in nomination? as God forgives him, he hoped the people of Pennsylvania would also forgive, but he would say it would have been better if the whole of the Tennessee delegates had been in the prison instead of Baltimore. In regard to the South he would say, if the spirit of the South and the rebellious spirit combined with the treachery and Copperheadism of the North, shall bring another war in the country and force you to leave your wives and children your homes and parents, and invade the South and put it down, I want to have something to say about the division of force. Let there be three divisions, let the first go armed according to regulations, with small arms and artillery, and let them do the killing, let the second go with pine knots and burning torches, and let them do the burning, let the third go with surveyors and compasses and chain, and we will sell out the lands to pay the expenses of the war, and settle the country with men who will honor the glorious banner [Cheers]

THE PRESIDENT AT ROCHESTER.

ROCHESTER, September 1 —The President was more formally received here than at any other place since the party left Albany The President, after lunch appeared on the balcony of the hotel and was officially welcomed by Mayor Moore who said

"This reception was tendered irrespective of party "

The President, in response to this speech, said

I sincerely thank you for this kind welcome which you have given me, and I will furthermore say, that a demonstration like this inspires me with confidence and urges me to the course of policy I have pursued for the preservation of the Union and vindication of the Constitution (Cheers) I rely on the intelligence, integrity and patriotism of the great masses of the American people to preserve this Government in the present as they have in the past emergencies. Though the physique is weak and the integrity is not so strong as it ought to be, I thought the spirit right, (applause) and as long as the blood that now warms and animates courses through my veins, the last energies of my manhood shall be devoted to the interests of the Union and the Constitution. (Applause) I see before me the colors you have borne through the conflict of battle You are aware of the sacrifices which have been made to preserve the Union, and therefore it is not for me to recount the number of lives lost, and of the maimed, and of the amount of treasure expended. Now that the warlike struggle has passed, I commit to your hands, to the hands of the people, the officers and soldiers. God bless them, the flag of our country, the Constitution of the United States and the Union, and permit me again in the sincerity of my heart again to thank you Let me invoke the blessing of heaven to rest upon the people of all the States.

BROCKPORT, Sept 1 —Notwithstanding the rain, a very large concourse of people greeted the President and his party at Albion, New York The train halted here fifteen minutes, when the Hon. S. E. Church, extended a cordial welcome to the President. The President briefly responded, and the distinguished excursionists were introduced and received with cheers of all beholders.

STATE ITEMS.

Hon. J. H. D. Henderson made a speech at Eug. City, Saturday evening.

More than the usual number of miners are now returning from the upper Columbia regions and Montana.

There is a report that four of the batch of convicts who escaped from Salem last Monday, have been caught.

Numerous droves of cattle are going into the upper country.

There are now no troops at Fort Dalles Captain Gillis, Quartermaster, has been ordered to Fort Stevens.

Travel over the road from Corvallis to Yaquina, is said to be increasing.

Business has decidedly improved within the last ten days at the Dalles The merchants are in better spirits than they have been for some time.

A meeting was called for Saturday, the 1st, at Corvallis, for the purpose of [illegible] stock company to erect a woolen factory

George Mansfield, of Wil[illegible] precinct, Lane county, has been held to answer in the Circuit Court for assault upon a German, with a pitchfork.

Opening of the Academy—The first term of school at the Portland Academy and Female Seminary under the direction of T. M. Gatch, will commence to-day In this connection we are requested to give the following Assistance Asked for.—The charitable people of our city will be called upon this week by gentlemen who have undertaken to raise sufficient funds to pay the expenses of Mr. Rudolph Franklin to his home in Europe. It will be remembered that on the morning of the Fourth of July last, Mr. Franklin met with an accident in firing a national salute in this city, which caused his right arm to be amputated. He is entirely destitute, and a few gentlemen who are countrymen of his, occupying the confidence of the public, have adopted this means of securing the means of a passage to his native country. The money will be placed in proper hands, to see that it is judiciously applied for the purpose for which it was asked. The accident by which the unfortunate man lost his arm, occurred through carelessness, but not upon his part so much as upon the part of those who were assisting him. We hope he may be enabled to reach his home, by the aid he will get from our citizens, as we understand when there he will be better able to support himself.

Quartz Mining.—The Owyhee Avalanche says the New York and Owyhee Company, G. C. Robbins Superintendent, are constructing a large tailing yard, enclosed by a heavy stone wall. The ground enclosed amounts to a quarter of an acre. The tailings pass from the settlers into the yard through a sluice covered with copper in the bottom so as to keep up a constant rippling. Below the yard will be built several smaller yards, the water and tailings passing from one to the other through sluices. Other improvements are being made so as to capture everything worth saving. It is quite well known to all mill men that a considerable per cent of the metal passes off in the tailings when the ore is milled without roasting. The Ainsworth Mill Company have the credit of having the first steam hoisting works in Owyhee. This has been done in the Sarpius Oro Fino. It is more pleasant to hear the hoisting machinery than the muscle of man do heavy work.

Real Estate Sales.—Mr. A. B. Richardson, with his usual ability, mounted the box at his sales room on Saturday last and knocked down to the highest bidder, the parcels of valuable city property at rates astonishingly high. The property sold is situated on the northeast corner of Madison and First streets recently improved, the house by Mr. Mahanting, and the last by Nicolson pays [illegible] The whole ground embraced one lot, 50 feet front by 100 feet deep. The first fractional part sold for $1,[illegible] [illegible] Madison street with a front of [illegible] feet, and has a stone cellar upon it, ready for building. The adjacent 25 feet with a good new house on it, sold for $1,[illegible]. The rear fractional part, being [illegible] feet on Madison street, 50 feet deep with a good [illegible] sold for $1,175. The aggregate sales foot up [illegible] On Wednesday next Mr Richardson will proceed to dispose of other valuable property, as advertised in another column.

Just Retired.—In consequence of ill health, Mr Wm Knight, of the firm of Knight & Co., has disposed of his interest in the Book Binding establishment of this city to Mr H. F. Cramer, and hereafter the business will be conducted by H. F. Cramer & Co. Mr Cramer has already established a reputation among us for excellent work as a workman in this branch of business, and while we regret to part with Mr. Knight, we feel very grateful that his place is to be filled by such a person as Mr Cramer. The establishment is now turning out a quality of work that will compare well with that of any binding in the United States, and as to our boast, the facts justify the assertion. Cramer & Co. will make anything in the book line, from a Bible to a pocket Album, from a Bible to a blank Register. Give them a trial. [illegible] are not aware of the extent of [illegible]

The New Light.—The rooms of Messrs. Shanahan & Dufrene, where Lieutenant Hand has opened his [illegible] every evening by atmospheric Coal [illegible] take quite a lively interest in [illegible] this new light, which is all that [illegible] recommends itself. We regard the [illegible]. It gives a light equally as brilliant [illegible] half the cost,—is as easily [illegible] any ordinary coal oil lamp, while it [illegible] moment, without the trouble of removing, as there is no chimney to remove. [illegible] as well as the annoyance of [illegible] them, is entirely obviated.

U. S. Court.—The regular September term of the United States District Court for Oregon, M. P. Deady Judge, commenced [illegible] at the United States Court [illegible] building......The September term of the [illegible] for Multnomah county, Judge P. A. Marquam [illegible] commence to-day, at the County Court [illegible] floor of the new Court House......The [illegible] of the State of Oregon will meet at Salem [illegible] already published a list of the cases [illegible] Multnomah county.

[illegible] the oyster season will soon commence Mr [illegible]ardt, of the Gem has prepared to receive [illegible] accordingly The addition to his stand is very [illegible] its exterior appearance, and Charlie will [illegible] may wish to be informed, that the interior cannot be excelled Persons wishing to [illegible] oyster business will do well to read Mr [illegible]

[illegible]—One of the features of the Fire [illegible] to-day, will be the "housing" of the several [illegible] and the apparatus of Vigilance Hook and [illegible]. This will be done as designated in the [illegible] by the Chief Engineer. It should have appeared [illegible] Saturday, but did not in consequence of [illegible] by the compositor.

[illegible]—The success with which this [illegible] was received in our city, last week, has induced the proprietor to exhibit again, and as will be seen by advertisement, the price of admission is reduced, and our citizens have two opportunities to witness the panorama [illegible]

[illegible]—We notice that Mr John [illegible], a former resident of Portland, has returned to the city after an absence of some time, and established [illegible] locality, on the corner of Third and Madison streets, where he will furnish families [illegible]

[illegible]—A [illegible] of errors occurred in this [illegible] Saturday's Oregonian, which were as aggravating [illegible] the public. We will not [illegible] we make apologies for them, [illegible] a repetition in the future as [illegible] possible.

[illegible]—The second annual parade of the [illegible] Fire Department occurs to-day The programme [illegible] on Saturday, will be seen in another [illegible]. Arrangements have been completed for making [illegible] that has ever been witnessed [illegible]

[illegible] to learn that Dr. Plummer [illegible] position as Agent of the Telegraph [illegible] leaving our city permanently. His [illegible] will be offered for sale by A. B. Richardson, on [illegible]

[illegible]—Trade on the Willamette [illegible] quite large. The P. T. Company's [illegible] freight to Albany, using the light [illegible] above Mathena's bar.

[illegible]—Among the arrivals at Astoria [illegible] we notice the names of Mr J. [illegible] H. Goodale, from Portland, [illegible]

[illegible]—The stock of stoves, tin-ware, etc., at [illegible] Baldwin & Joynt, is the largest that [illegible] offered to the trade in Oregon The new [illegible] firm is chock full.

All About a Name.—A day or two since the world was edified by a dissertation concerning the origin and meaning of the name "Beriah," written with great display of erudition by a no less (or greater) person than he of the Herald who rejoices in that famous (or notorious) pronomen The basis of which systematic and deeply learned inquiry is the following Scripture

"And he called his name Beriah because it went evil with his house —1st Chronicles vii 23

The principal portion of the aforementioned commentary on this Scripture runs in this wise

The narrative in this connection is that the father of Beriah had been bereft of his children—"it went evil with his house For this cause he called the name of the child born unto him Beriah which in Hebrew means 'God's good gift' The Bible account is that the blessing came with the name and the posterity of Beriah multiplied and prospered

Now we imagine that Beriah B's readers would be better satisfied with this exposition if it contained a few more of the interesting particulars of the story and less philological learning. We think it a pity that a story should be only half told, and therefore shall consider that we are doing a public service in relating the balance of the narrative

"The father of Beriah had been bereft of his children." It is interesting to inquire how this bereavement occurred. The narrative shows that his children—Beriah's brothers—were engaged in a cattle speculation—that is to say they went down to Gath on a guerrilla adventure, but were slain by the men of Gath, "because they came down to take away their cattle" Whereat "their father mourned many days," and called his next son "Beriah, because it went evil with his house"

Thus much for the story, now for the interpretation of the name Says this talmudist and tracer of genealogies, "his name was called Beriah, which in Hebrew means 'God's good gift'" Shades of Gesenius, Kitto, Moses Stuart and every other Hebraist, ancient or modern, what a rendering! The translators of the received version of the Scriptures say that the name "Beriah" signifies, "in evil" Webster's dictionary, and we don't know but his spelling-book, contains the same information. Beriah B's essay on the origin and meaning of his name is therefore a very unlucky performance every way For one professing to be versed in the Semitic languages and offering philological information in relation to them, this effort cannot be termed a very brilliant success.

Once more "What's in a name?" Who that considers the matter in relation to the case before us but will be impressed with the wisdom of the Shandean philosophy which teaches that there is a strange kind of magic bias which good or bad names irresistibly impress upon human character and conduct? That when once a name is wrongfully or injudiciously given, it is not like the case of a man's character, which when wronged may be hereafter cleared, but the injury of this can never be undone, and it may be doubted whether an act of parliament can reach it! "How many Cæsars and Pompeys by the mere inspiration of their names have been rendered worthy of them! And how many are there who might have done exceeding well in the world, had not their characters and spirits been totally depressed and Nicodemus'd into nothing!" Who can wonder that the tenor of his life is toward evil whose very name is such as to thrust him irresistibly on towards wickedness and ruin?

S. T.—1860.—X.
Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite distress after eating torpid liver, constipation &c, deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated
PLANTATION BITTERS,
Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce a immediate beneficial effect They are exceedingly agreeable perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required
They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache
They make the weak strong the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras roots and herbs all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle
Beware of Impostors Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U S Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk is an impostor Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U S Law, and will be so prosecuted by us We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen merchants, &c., is incredible The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
READ AND REFLECT.
Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate from day to day,
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too
"How, you inquire, can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH A SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!
As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever taint the heavy air.
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE
To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind
Ague that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysentric pains,
Death which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.
In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To household olds tone in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle-aged, and old,
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.
If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

SOME OF YOU CAN'T, AND WE PITY you. You have tried every remedy but the ONE destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. [DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 31.

The Delmonico Wine Guzzling.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The banquet at Delmonico's last night, was a very splendid affair. Mayor Hoffman presided. Speeches were made by the President and Seward. The following are the principal passages of the President's speech:

"We have those here who took an active part in the struggle for the preservation of the country. The army on one hand (pointing to Grant) and the navy on the other (pointing to Farragut), these, gentlemen, have performed their part in restoring the country to its present condition. It would be wrong in me if I should omit to say that the Secretary of State has performed his part. As to the part the humble individual who now addresses you took in the struggle for the suppression of the rebellion and the restoration of the country, I will say nothing, though I will say in summing up, that the Government has discharged its duty; but there is something else to be performed. The work is not done. We have forcibly established that no State has a right to leave the Union, and when the States are again resuming relations with the Federal Government as far as in their power, we find that when they seek to have their representatives admitted to Congress, there are men in that body who, in violation of our great charter of liberty, deny their right to be represented, and refuse to admit their representatives into Congress. The query then comes up in the struggle before us, will we submit, will the American people submit to this practical dissolution, and this paractical assertion of the doctrine that they have already repudiated and overthrown. The issue is before you. Let me ask this intelligent audience, not in the language of declamation, but in the spirit of christianity and sound philosophy, are we prepared to renew those scenes through which we have just passed? Are we again to see one portion of the country arrayed in deadly conflict against another portion, as we have seen them arrayed, or shall we not make every effort to have all parties and all people of this country again united in harmony and brotherhood? Will their offer be accepted? Do not all want a Union again? I have said before, and I now repeat, I do not want to let them back into the Union degraded and debased. They would not be fit to perform a part of this American family. I want them to come back with all their manhood."

The President is Serenaded—Makes Another Speech.

Subsequently the President was serenaded, and made another speech from the balcony, saying that he thanked God that the people through their representatives at the Philadelphia Convention, imposed a sentence on those who [illegible] the Union; that the people obeying the great law of gravitation which could vanquish any movement pointing to a disruption of the Union, had sent forth their edict like a flash of light that would exercise an irresistible influence throughout the United States; that the Union must be [illegible] established under the Constitution. He had not been mistaken in holding that there was an overruling Providence in the movements of the American people. He believed that the great truth, for proclaiming which he had been denounced, was being carried out—that the voice of the people is the voice of God. [Cheers.] There was now a great ground swell that would reach traitors in the North. The Union of these States must be preserved. He had begun in 1861 to oppose any encroachment upon that Union, and had continued to fight against such attempts. At the Southern portion of the circle, there were those who made an attack on the magic bond, and now it had passed round to the other extremity. Should he name them? [A voice, "Yes, and hang them too!"] They had named him and denounced him in the Legislative Councils as a traitor, when he, as a native of the nation, was determined to do his duty under the Constitution. They were traitors, having extended their [illegible] to the archives of the State and trampled the Constitution of their fathers under foot.

When these things were told to them by himself on the anniversary of the birthday of the Father of our Country, why was it undignified and unbecoming, though it was right for them to charge him with being a traitor and with having abandoned the party that elected him? He challenged to-day the whole Congress in the [illegible] again, with the exception of those who stand by the Constitution, to come forward and put their finger on the slightest violation or departure in his course from the resolutions [illegible] at Baltimore upon which he was elected. But because he had refused to obey those who had abandoned those principles and refused to give his sanction to what was called the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, which proposed to tax the people nearly fifty millions, to support what they assumed to be freedmen, he had been denounced. What is that bill? There are those who contend for emancipation not only for the black, but for the white man, and a good deal of that kind was needed. When we looked at this bill what was it? Nothing more than the transferring of four millions of slaves from their original owners to a new set of masters, with the United States to pay all expenses, and the [illegible] all the profits. Johnson concluded by thanking the [illegible] of New York for the [illegible] on the [illegible]. He was repeatedly interrupted with cheers during the speech.

Gen. Grant Makes a [illegible]

Gen. Grant being called for, said: All I can say is that if the President and his Cabinet had kept their resolution made [illegible] to leave the Admiral and myself to do all the talking, [Cheers and laughter.] I am overwhelmed by the eloquence of this evening by your Mayor, that it is impossible for me to add [illegible] you any further.

Admiral Farragut's [illegible]

Admiral Farragut said: At the [illegible] I was invited to accompany the President [illegible] where I have not been for so many years [illegible] I felt not an inclination to go. I was taught in that good school where an invitation from my Commander-in-Chief was always a pleasant duty to perform. If the President and Mr. Seward had known that I was a [illegible] of a close-base society in which our first pledge was that any man who spoke five minutes, or five [illegible] should be excluded, he would not have [illegible] that speech, stating that we were to be the [illegible] of the day.

The [illegible]

The Times says the dinner to the [illegible] party at Delmonico's last night, was the most elegant and expensive affair of the kind [illegible] party in this country. A dinner for 250 [illegible] and its cost was $25,000. For each plate was a plate, different varieties of wine, costing from ten to twenty dollars per bottle.

[illegible]

West Point, August 30.—The [illegible] arrived at 7 o'clock, having had a most enjoyable trip up the river, with salutes and cheers at all prominent places. The Mayor of Albany went down on a steamer to meet the party and officially welcome them. The Mayor of Troy also went down on another steamer to join the escort. The President was escorted to the Capitol through illuminated streets crowded with people. Gov. Fenton said: Mr. President, with high consideration for the Chief Magistrate of the Republic, I [illegible] words of welcome in behalf of our citizens and the [illegible] of the State whose Capitol you visit. We extend to you and to your suite hospitality and greeting, and desire to give you safe conduct as you go hence to pay honor to the [illegible] of the lamented Douglas, and to the State that distinguished as the home and final resting place of [illegible] and martyr Lincoln. I have no power to give due expression to the feelings of this [illegible] of citizens, nor to express in fitting terms the magnanimity of the whole people upon an occasion so marked as the coming to our homes of the President of the United States. In their name I give assurance to your Excellency of their fidelity, patriotism, and warm interest in all that relates to the good order, progress, and freedom of all the States, and their earnest hope that peace will soon open up to the people of the whole land new fields of greater liberty, prosperity, and power. The President made no lengthy reply, but merely returned his [illegible] of the State. After [illegible] a few minutes [illegible] chamber, the President and party withdrew. The procession [illegible] to the Delevan House, where a dinner given by the [illegible]

Illinois [illegible] State Convention.

[illegible] Nominations.

The Unionists of Philadelphia have nominated for Congress J. R. Lyndell, Chas. O'Neill, L. Myers, and Wm. D. Kelley. The opponents of Kelley have nominated Alfred Penny.

The President's Reception at Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia North American, edited by the Mayor, says of the informality attending the President's visit: It is a noteworthy fact that of the 25 members of the Select Council, less than 20 are at present in the city, and of these a considerable majority are Democrats. The Mayor is taking the only rest he can enjoy for a year to come, so that the absence of any municipal participation in the ceremonies was unavoidable.

Delegates to Southern Union Convention.

Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, has named [illegible] Eyck, Chas. S. Olden, Fred. [illegible] Schuyler, Alexander G. Cottell, J. T. Nixon, W. A. N[illegible], T. Cobb, among others, to attend the Philadelphia Convention, and convey to its [illegible] of sympathy with their sufferings, [illegible] loyal [illegible] and spirit, throughout the [illegible].

Call for a Meeting of National Union Executive Committee—Interesting Correspondence.

CHICAGO, August 30.—J. J. Coombs, H. W. Hoffman, J. S. Fowler, J. D. Defrees and W. J. Cordin having called a meeting at Philadelphia, September 3d, of the National Committee appointed by the Baltimore Convention of 1864, Henry J. Raymond, Chairman of the Committee, publishes a call that the Committee shall meet at the Astor house, New York, September 3d. Marcus L. Ward, of New Jersey, a member of the Committee, publishes a letter repudiating the Raymond call and saying to Raymond: You have deemed it wise and proper to abandon the great Union Republican party of the country, and to connect your name and influence with a new organization designed to destroy and defeat the cause with which I sympathise, and of which I am in some small degree a representative. Your public action has been such that I cannot acknowledge your right to use the title under which the meeting has been called. The nature and character of the trust confided to you and me, forbid that we should use them except in accordance with the spirit in which they were conferred. So deep and wide spread is this feeling in the popular mind, that all who should respond to your call would be regarded as betraying the party that have ceased to represent.

Raymond replies: It is a matter wholly within your own discretion, whether you attend the meeting of the National Executive Committee, called in this city for the 3d of September or not, but I am not aware that you have the right to overrule the action of the National Convention, by which, in common with you, I was made a member of that Committee, or the committee itself, by which I was made its chairman and you the treasurer. I need not inform you that the meetings of the Committee can only be held under the call of the proper officers, and that action taken at meetings not so called can have no binding authority. My object in calling this meeting was to afford the Committee an opportunity to take such action in regular form as its judgment the condition and interests of the Union party may require; if its members do not choose to attend, my duty will be performed. I am obliged to you for the opinions as to my political course which you have honored me with, I trust I don't underrate their importance, or that of the distinguished source from which they come. I have no desire to controvert or comment upon them, though as at present advised I certainly prefer my own. I hope I shall not need to add that I have no desire to hold an official position in the National Committee of the Union party, or of any other against the wishes of its members; but I deem it my duty, especially as this is not merely a matter of personal feeling, to insist upon regularity of action, as the only mode by which that wish can be ascertained.

New Jersey Legislature to be Convened.

CHICAGO, August 30.—Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, has privately declared his intention to convene the New Jersey Legislature for the election of Senators, and for the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment, and Scoville, the hitherto bolting Senator, publishes a letter pledging himself to do his duty as a member of the Republican party; and indignantly denying that his former course was intended or should be taken as separating him from the Union party.

MANIPULATION OF GEN. GRANT—TRICKS OF A TRICKSTER.

CHICAGO, August 31.—A special correspondent of the Republican who is with the President's party, says the President's speech at the Delmonico banquet was in many respects very skillful; reaching now to Gen. Grant upon his left, and then to Admiral Farragut on his right, he succeeded, by implication, in committing them to the support of his policy. This was followed by Mayor Hoffman who proposed the health of the two officers, as supporters of the President. This placed them in a position which was not to be easily retreated from, and there is little doubt entertained but that Gen. Grant will be so worked upon as to make a speech fully defining his position, which will no doubt be the one occupied by the President. Certainly thus far the trip has been managed with great skill, and unless some contretemps occur it will add much to the strength of the new party.

The President made a somewhat longer speech than he intended, but it was difficult for him to stop when he once began.

"GROUND SWELLS"—"MY POLICY" TRIUMPHANT.

BALTIMORE, August 31.—Last night an attack was made on a colored camp meeting, three miles from Hanover Switch, on the Washington Road, by a band of armed desperadoes. Several negroes were badly beaten and wounded, and a white man named Milton Benson, while at prayer, was shot in the back of the head and mortally wounded, the ball coming out at his mouth.

THE PRESIDENT IN CENTRAL NEW YORK.

ALBANY, August 31.—The President and party were accompanied to the cars for Auburn by a military escort and hundreds of persons were in attendance at the Railroad. The demonstrations [illegible] lost in the distance.

[illegible] tendered the hospitalities of Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, August 31.—There are assembled thousands exhibiting much enthusiasm. Salutes were fired and cheers given for the President and party. Judge Page delivered an address to the President.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The steamer Arizona brings Panama dates to August 23. The troubles in Chiriqui continue. The rebels are reported in possession of the Central Department, including the Capital. They have about 4,000 men under arms. The remainder of the State is in comparative quiet, though efforts are making to get up a revolt in Panama.

The news from Central America is of no interest.

H[illegible] has signed a treaty of peace, amity, etc., with Spain.

The price of coffee at Costa Rica was unfavorably affected by late news from Europe.

Mexican News.

GALVESTON, August 31.—Mexican news reports that a squad of Liberal cavalry penetrated to within seven miles of Vera Cruz, and after burning much property and exchanging shots with the Imperial horsemen, retired unpursued.

Various attempts have been made by the Liberals to breed pestilence among the French camps.

Two hundred Indians were enrolled under the Juarez banner, a few days ago, all splendidly armed and equipped.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Herald's dispatches from Matamoras, August 17th, says:

The cause of the revolution which displaced Carvajal and made Canales Municipal Governor, is traced to the general dislike to the former manifested by all the Mexicans in the city, which is [illegible] by his having [illegible] the city formerly for near three months, and his Mexican proclivities to having, during his recent command in Matamoras, gathered around him a staff of American ex-rebels. It is now feared Cortinas will make an attack for the purpose of [illegible] himself over the city.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—A German named Fisher was found dead in his bed last night at 231 Kearny street. An examination showed that he died of congestion of the brain.

The great colt race between California raised stock foaled in 1863, [illegible] off at San Mateo on Monday next, and promises to be an interesting affair. The object of the meeting is to encourage stock breeding and improvement of horses, and is regarded by stock raisers as more an agricultural than horse racing affair.

The Aerial Steam Navigation Company has filed its certificate of incorporation; the certificate states their object to be the transportation of freight, [illegible] and [illegible] from place to place through the air. Capital stock one million dollars.

Mrs. Catharine Van Denlen has filed a notice in the County Court, of her intention to apply for the pardon of her husband, M. C. Van Denlen, now serving out a term of four years' imprisonment at San Quentin, for grand larceny.

The friends of Capt. Thomas [illegible]'s claim that he is not criminally to blame in the case mentioned by us yesterday. They state he took the money from the safe in the morning after his usual hour of going to the office; that the safe keys were notoriously in his [illegible] at all times, and that the money which he took from the safe was a balance due him on account, which had existed between himself and his employer for months. These facts, they say, they will prove on the trial, and will vindicate the honor and integrity of the accused.

Attachment suits were commenced against the firm of J. O. Jackson & Co., lumber dealers on Stuart street.

The Democrats held a meeting at Union Hall last evening, for the purpose of ratifying their nominations and the proceedings of the Philadelphia Convention. The hall was fairly well filled with Copperheads, supporters of the [illegible], and others who attended from motives of curiosity. The band in attendance played airs which deceived many passers-by as to the character of the assemblage, and led them to suppose that a Union meeting was being held inside.

FROM CHINA AND JAPAN.

The British ship Mary Francis, 60 days from Hong Kong, arrived this morning. She brings China papers to the 12th of July, which contain further particulars concerning the loss of the British ship, Fairlight, bound to this port from Hong Kong.

The Fairlight struck on a reef near the Meeracosina Islands, on the night of the 12th of June. Rough weather came on and the ship broke up. The mate and crew, all the European passengers but one, and 14 Chinamen passengers escaped with their lives; one American passenger, a young man, name unknown, and 232 Chinese passengers were lost. Many of the latter, after being sent on a raft, returned to the ship to save property, and were lost when the ship broke up.

The loss of the British schooner, Pearl, by a typhoon, between Amoy and Takow, was confirmed. Out of 23 persons on board, only one was saved. The vessel was capsized on the night of the 12th of June, and four persons got on the wreck, only one of whom remained until rescued by a fishing boat three days later.

Reports had been received from Hakodadi of a collision between the Japanese and Russians at Sighalien, in which several of the latter were killed. It appears that a sledging party of Japanese were carried by the clan of their dogs into a Russian encampment. The troops began to beat the intruders notwithstanding their apologies, and the latter drew their swords and killed five of their adversaries.

In Hong Kong five Chinamen were convicted and sentenced to death for piracy and murder, upon the crew of the Danish bark Carl. The vessel was boarded and robbed, and Capt. Rixerberg killed.

THE NEW LIGHT!

DANFORD'S

Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIversal necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene [illegible] could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than one cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufreus, corner of Morrison and First streets.
